

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

Systems and methods for viewing a previously run movie in a theater. Users request to view a movie at a website. The movie is associated with a location and/or a threshold. The threshold is related to users that commit to view the movie. At the website, users commit to view the movie by paying now or by paying when the threshold is satisfied. When the threshold of a movie is satisfied, the users that have committed to view the movie are notified that the movie will be shown at a particular location.
